DETAILED ACTION

Election of Species Requirement

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

2. The species are as follows:

a. Cross-linked microparticles, characterized by the monomeric units and remaining functional groups which are present, and

b. Reactive systems of the thermosetting composition, characterized by reactive components present.

3. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single set of species for both (a) and (b) to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. An alternative method of electing species is to identify an example in the specification that exemplifies the elected species. An example of an acceptable election of species is as follows:

a. A cross-linked polymer microparticle which is a copolymer of octadecyl acrylate, n-butyl acrylate, glycidyl methacrylate and hexanediol diacrylate, wherein the first reactive functional group present is a glycidyl group and there is no second reactive functional group present, i.e., as in Example 1, and

b. An epoxy/amine thermosetting composition consisting of bisphenol A diglycidyl ether, and 4,4'-methylene-bis(3-chloro-2,5-diethylaniline), and no other reactive component is present, i.e., as in Example 12.

The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election. The following claim(s) appear to be generic to the above species, Claim 1 and 17-21.

4. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Asanaka discloses compositions comprised of reactive particulate resins containing ethylenic unsaturated bonds and average particle sizes of 0.07-0.12  $\mu\text{m}$  (10-120 nm) (see Examples 1-6). The particles are dispersed in either an unsaturated polyester or vinyl ester resin and then molded (see Examples 7-14). PCT 13.2 reads as follows:

13.2 *Circumstances in Which the Requirement of Unity of Invention Is to Be Considered Fulfilled

Where a group of inventions is claimed in one and the same international application, the requirement of unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. (Underlining added.)

The compositions of Asanaka anticipate at least claim 1 of the instant invention and therefore the special technical feature linking the inventions, does not provide a contribution over the prior art.

Conclusion to Restriction/Election Requirement

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. A telephone call was made to Mr. Alan E. Wagner on 4/30/03 to request an oral election to the above election of species requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
